In response to the Covid-19 pandemic, many training opportunities are now available online. We want to make these as accessible as possible to our community.

Applicants are encouraged to choose a resource that supports the goal to create conditions for compassion to flourish, honour the legacy of our founding sisters, and encourage service from a heart of compassion in their workplace. Staff and Board Members within the Compassion Network are eligible to apply (individuals or groups).

We will consider applications from external healthcare, social services, and not-for-profit organizations if applicants can show their support of our goals.

For some resource recommendations, please see our website for information. We are also open to alternative requests that fit the goals. If you would like to discuss your application, please contact compassion@compassionaction.ca.

4. If your application is for more than one participant, please tell us how many people you expect to take part.

5. Is there a deadline for registration or a specific start date?

6. Are you able to contribute partially to your request? An example might be to pay a part of the tuition, cover the supplies required, share a story related to the program, pay it forward, or volunteer time. This is encouraged to make opportunities available to as many people as possible and is not a requirement.

7. Is there anything else you would like us to know?

Please submit this form to compassion@compassionaction.ca.
